The National Festivals and Participative Events Programme is a competitive grant process. There is no guarantee of funding for applications which achieve the minimum eligibility conditions. The fund is limited and all eligible applications will be evaluated on a competitive basis against the criteria set out in this document.
1. The Role of Fáilte Ireland

Fáilte Ireland is the National Tourism Development Authority of Ireland. Our role is to support the tourism industry and work to sustain Ireland as a high-quality and competitive tourism destination. We provide a range of practical business supports to help tourism businesses better manage and sell their products and services.

Our emphasis is on strategic partnership, with all the interests in Irish tourism at national, regional and local levels working together towards a common goal.

2. What is the National Festivals & Participative Events Programme 2017?

Festivals and Participative Events are an important component of the Irish tourism product offering. Festivals provide opportunities to showcase culture, people and places, thereby greatly improving the visitor experience of Ireland. They also help improve the distribution of tourism revenue around the country. Consequently, Fáilte Ireland provides considerable support to festivals and participative events through its National Programme, investing approximately €2.7 million in 39 festivals and participative events around Ireland in 2016.

The programme aims to enhance the growth, quality, competitiveness and sustainability of tourism in Ireland by improving the visitor experience. Support is provided by way of current funding.

3. Who is the Programme Aimed At?

The programme is aimed at large festivals and participative events who attract additional overseas tourists to Ireland and generate economic benefits for the host locality and surrounding areas while also appealing to our best prospect visitor segments.

The following categories of festivals and participative events are ineligible for this programme.

- a) Domestic festivals/participative events which attract domestic audiences only.
- b) Purely commercial events with limited appeal to overseas tourists.
- c) Large spectator-based sporting events.
- d) Agricultural shows and countryside fairs with limited appeal to overseas tourists.

4. What Should Successful Applicants Do Well?

- Build on Irish tourism’s key strengths.
- Provide tourists with compelling experiences.
- Animate the identified programme areas of Dublin, Ireland’s Ancient East and the Wild Atlantic Way in line with Fáilte Ireland’s strategy.
- Generate motivating on-line content which can be used for future tourism promotion.
From a strategic perspective one of Fáilte Ireland’s key objectives is to build sustainable international sales driving accelerated growth from key overseas markets where high value customers stay longer and spend more. To address these objectives a new approach to identifying and defining best prospects for growth has been put in place.

This has resulted in:

(A) New overseas segmentation models.
(B) A greater focus on tourism experiences.
(C) Clearly defined programme area propositions.

A. Overseas Visitor Segmentation

In overseas markets, the following priority markets segments have been identified:

- Culturally Curious: independent minded and interested in places of historic and cultural appeal.
- Great Escapers: looking to get away from it all, renew family bonds and spend time together in a beautiful place.
- Social Energisers: looking for new experiences and excitement.

B. Tourism Experiences

For today’s international tourist, holidays are less about ‘doing’ something and more about feeling truly immersed in the place and/or an activity. A tourism experience is multi-faceted. It comes from the combination of the place, its attractions and activities, the people and stories that are shared.

Research has shown that five different Irish holiday experiences are highly motivating for overseas tourists, these are:

- Awakening the Senses: stimulating and profound experiences within natural and unspoiled landscapes.
- Connecting with the People of Ireland: immersing themselves in Irish culture.
- Getting Active in Nature: revitalising and energising experiences and activities in the spectacular outdoors.
- Living Historical Stories: interesting and informative experiences and attractions in urban and rural areas.
- Vibe of the City: fresh, exciting and stimulating experiences and attractions in a lively atmosphere.
C. Programme Area Propositions

In a competitive market place, Ireland can best achieve a higher profile and incremental growth by putting tourism propositions of scale and singularity in front of potential visitors. A programme area approach consisting of three key geographically based, thematic propositions has been adopted to present Ireland to overseas tourists.

Applicants may be aware that Fáilte Ireland has been assigned the task of exploring the potential of a fourth (‘Ireland’s Lakelands’) Experience Brand under the recently agreed Programme for Government. As this task is not complete at this stage, applications aligned with a Lakelands theme will not be required to comment on their alignment with a programme area.

- Dublin: The city, and its hinterland, needs to differentiate itself as a ‘must-visit’ destination for anyone visiting Ireland or contemplating a city-based trip in Europe. Substantial work has been carried out by the Grow Dublin Taskforce. Click logo for further information:

- Ireland’s Ancient East: An umbrella destination brand rooted in the rich history and diverse range of cultural heritage experiences that are particularly prevalent in the East and South regions of Ireland. Click logo for further information:

- Wild Atlantic Way: A strategic tourism initiative to present the West Coast of Ireland as a tourism product of sale and singularity, designed to encourage incremental overseas visitors to the West Coast of Ireland. This has been achieved through the development of a long distance coastal touring route stretching from the Inishowen Peninsula in Donegal to Kinsale in West Cork. Click logo for further information:

Festivals and participative events securing funding must be able to clearly state how their offering (a) meets the needs of one or more of the priority markets segments, (b) creates memorable tourism experiences and (c) fits with the host programme area’s tourism proposition.

5. What are the Qualifying Conditions & Minimum Eligibility Thresholds for 2017?

Changes have been made to the minimum eligibility thresholds to reflect the National Tourism Development Authority’s response to the Department of Transport, Tourism and Sport Tourism Action Plan 2016-2018 which requires Fáilte Ireland to review ‘structures and procedures that are used to target significant visiting international events, with a particular focus upon offsetting seasonality’.

Fáilte Ireland will increasingly focus its supports on festivals and participative events that take place outside of the peak and shoulder season i.e. outside of the months of June to September. To achieve this, the minimum bednights threshold for the programme has been revised, and this is outlined in the box overleaf.

(a) Revised Minimum Bednights: Festivals and participative events must demonstrate that they achieve the revised minimum bednights of which a significant proportion must be overseas visitor bednights. Applicants are advised that the bednights thresholds will be subject to further adjustment in future years. In the absence of valid accommodation or audience surveys, the number of bednights arising will be estimated by Fáilte Ireland based, in part, on data provided by the applicant.

(b) Revised Thresholds for Private Sector Funding: All festivals and participative events must also note the revised thresholds for private sector funding required through channels such as ticket sales, sponsorship, merchandise, etc.

(c) Aiding Regional Spread: In addition to the minimum eligibility thresholds outlined above, applicants are advised that festivals/participative events, or elements of them, that take place outside of the traditional tourist ‘hotspots’ and which disperse tourists to alternative locations will now be considered within the ‘Tourism Impact’ evaluation criteria. See heatmap below which demonstrates current tourism hotspots.
