CHESTER BEATTY

www.chesterbeatty.ie

The Chester Beatty promotes the appreciation and understanding of world cultures with holdings of manuscripts, rare books, and other treasures from Europe, the Middle East, North Africa and Asia.

Two new exhibitions running until January 2020 include:

Thai Buddhist Tales - Stories along the Path to Enlightenment

Step into the world of Thai Buddhist heritage - the Chester Beatty preserves an internationally important yet little known collection of Buddhist manuscripts from Thailand. Free Admission.

The Mystery of Mani

In 1929, seven papyrus books from the lost Manichaean religion were discovered in Egypt. Dated to c. 400 AD, these unique texts proved critical in deepening understanding of the Manichaean religion, a once thriving, yet effectively suppressed faith. Founded by the prophet Mani in the third century, Mani saw the world as a combat between the forces of light and dark. Ninety years on, this exhibition highlights the four books Beatty acquired, and features international loans that have never before been on public display. Free Admission.

DO DUBLIN

www.dodublin.ie

The extraordinary roll call of artists the studios have hosted over the past 40 years is filled with some of the music world's most iconic names; U2, AC/DC, The Rolling Stones, Rod Stewart, The Cranberries, Ed Sheeran, Kate Bush, The Spice Girls, Van Morrison, Sinéad O'Connor, Kylie, Nile Rogers, Glen Hansard, Norah Jones, Depeche Mode, Lady Gaga, New Order and Hozier.

Behind the famous studio doors lies an exclusive creative sanctuary rarely seen by music fans. The Windmill Lane Recording Studios Visitor Experience presents guests with an exceptional opportunity to understand the conception and production of some of the most popular sounds and music of the past 40 years.

THE OLD LIFFEY FERRY

www.oldliffeyferry.com

Dublin's historic No.11 Liffey Ferry returned after a 35-year absence and will serve members of the public crossing the river in the capital. It was relaunched following a complete restoration in a project by Dublin Port Company and Dublin City Council.

The Old Liffey Ferry service runs between the Cill Árne pontoon, Sir John Rogerson's Quay and 3Arena (The Point Depot) pontoon, from 7am to 7pm - Monday to Friday, all year round.

BREWERY AND DISTILLERY EXPERIENCES

IRISH WHISKEY MUSEUM

www.irishwhiskeymuseum.ie

Whiskey Museum, Friday night karaoke!

The Irish Whiskey Museum recently launched a karaoke night - but with an Irish twist. Choose from the Dubliners and Rory Gallagher to the Cranberries, U2 and the Script! (With a few classic karaoke songs thrown in for good measure).

Every Friday, 9-11pm in McDonnell's bar at the Irish Whiskey Museum. Bar open until 11.30pm.

The Irish Whiskey Museum Brunch

offers samples of three Irish whiskeys, followed by a brunch of Irish smoked salmon, fresh bread and Irish Whiskey Museum marmalade, handmade in Co. Monaghan. Vegetarian option of Irish smoked gubbeen cheese also available.

RASCALS BREWERY

www.rascalsbrewing.com

Rascals Brewery was founded in 2014 and has brewed all kinds of wonderful beer, from Chardonnay Saisons to Mint Choc Stouts to Strawberry Vanilla Milkshake IPAs.

Two new tours are now available (regular and premium) to provide a first-hand glimpse at the workings of the brewery, from the malt room to the brewhouse to the fermentation tanks.

ROE & CO DISTILLERY

www.roeandcowhiskey.com

The Roe & Co blend was crafted by Master Blender, Caroline Martin, who chose an intense, fruity malt whiskey and smooth grain whiskeys that have been slowly matured in Bourbon casks. The new distillery boasts three unique copper stills and can run both triple distillation and double distillation, under the talented eye of Head Distiller Lora Hemy and her team.

Visitors will be treated to an exploration of the Roe & Co working distillery, located in the former Guinness Power Station in the heart of Dublin's buzzing Liberties district. Fun and flavour are at the centre of every aspect of the Roe & Co visitor experience, which will transport guests on a journey of taste and discovery. Guests will enjoy a fully immersive 75-minute tour and get the chance to observe the operational live distillery, hear the hum of production and witness the copper pot stills and mash tun from an impressive elevated glass walkway.

THE DUBLIN BREWERY AND DISTILLERY TOUR

www.dublinbrewerytour.ie

The Dublin Brewery and Distillery Tour is a unique attraction in Dublin. The Hop-on Hop-off tour buses provide two fantastic services.

1. Untold History Tour - what makes this tour unique is the untold history of the impact of the brewing and distilling industry on Dublin. Themed buses will bring you around in style while giving you a helicopter view of the hidden history.
2. Shuttle to the sites - travel on board the Dublin Brewery and Distillery Tour to get from the city centre to and from the main sites. With services every 45 minutes the bus brings you direct to all the key tour locations, including the Guinness Storehouse, Teeling Whiskey Distillery, The Dublin Liberties Distillery, Roe & Co, Pearse Lyons Distillery and Jameson Distillery.

TEELING WHISKEY DISTILLERY

www.teelingwhiskey.com

If you haven't made a trip to Teeling Whiskey Distillery, the fully operational distillery in the Liberties area of Dublin, now is the time!

Teeling Whiskey's 24-year-old single malt has been crowned the 'World's Best Single Malt' at the 2019 World Whiskies Awards. Teeling overcame competition from renowned whiskey industry leaders from Scotland and Japan to take the number one prize for World's Best Single Malt. Single Malt is considered the "gold standard" of world whiskey due to its production process as well as its character and flavour profile.

THE DUBLIN LIBERTIES DISTILLERY

www.thedld.com

Dublin's historic Liberties Distillery is the newest addition to Ireland's thriving whiskey scene and is a stone's throw from two of Dublin's other distilleries - Teeling (Newmarket Square) and Pearse Lyons (James's Street) - reinstating the 'Golden Triangle' of Dublin 8 from the 18th and 19th centuries, when The Liberties was the centre of brewing and distilling in Dublin, with the largest concentration of producers in Ireland.

www.bar1661.ie

With Ireland's ancient moonshine enjoying newfound popularity in the cocktail bars of London and New York, the latest addition to Dublin's cocktail scene comes in the form of a spirited hostelry taking its name from the year that Poitín was first banned here. The brainchild of Bán Poitín creator Dave Mulligan, Bar 1661 is dedicated to the promotion of drinks native to Ireland, serving beverages ranging from traditional pints of plain to cocktails containing the once illicit spirit. Forthcoming events at the bar on Green Street include music sessions and tasty food pairings.

BOWLS BY KWANGHI

www.bowls.ie

Located on Marlborough Street, this restaurant is inspired from the streets of Hong Kong. Each bowl has been inspired and thoughtfully crafted to represent the unique and diverse flavours of the Southeast of Asia. Taste their take on Asia's Flavours one bowl at a time.

CAFÉ 1920

www.cafe1920.ie

Café 1920 is one of Dublin's newest restaurants, situated on Westmoreland Street. It's the kind of place you will lose yourself in and forget the hustle and bustle of city life. A huge range of food is available, from brunch to light bites and more substantial dinner choices.

CHIMAC

www.chimac.ie

This Korean style chicken restaurant opened on Aungier Street in May this year. Chimac comes from "chi", short for "chikin" plus "mac" from "maekju", Korean for beer.

Chimac are proud to bring a taste of Seoul to the heart of Dublin. Chimac also serve up frosé and Jinto, which is a frozen wine and grapefruit cocktail, perfect for a sunny day in the city.

DAMASCUS GATE

www.damascusgate.ie

Specialising in Syrian and Lebanese cuisine, Damascus Gate on Camden Street opened another branch in Terenure.

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

www.elephantandcastle.ie/rathmines

Elephant and Castle opened their second restaurant in December 2018. This new restaurant in the inner suburb of Rathmines has the same delicious menu as the Temple Bar restaurant, (including their famous chicken wings!), and a relaxed but warm, buzzing atmosphere.

FRANK'S

www.franksdublin.com

New restaurant Frank's, on Camden Street, is from Darren Free, the chef turned restaurateur who also owns Delahunt, on the same street.

Frank's is a one-room restaurant and wine bar, with a 20-seat communal dining table with a casual menu of snacks, four main courses, desserts and cheese.

GERTRUDE

www.gertrude.ie

Contemporary café located on Pearse Street with coffee tasting and brewing classes, turning out cakes, sandwiches and soups.

GIGI

www.gigiranelagh.ie

Gigi is situated in the heart of Ranelagh village, Dublin 6. The restaurant is run by duo Giorgio & Giorgio, hence the name Gigi. Gigi serves authentic Italian staple food letting their produce take centre stage.

They welcome all guests to relax, unwind, enjoy, and above all have fun in the "Piccolo" Dining Room.

www.grano.ie

Grano in Stoneybatter on the north side of the city, combines fresh natural ingredients, farmed using organic and biodynamic techniques to create contemporary Italian food. By sourcing ingredients from small Italian food and wine producers, their mission is to contribute to the preservation of local food cultures and the revival of ancient cultivation techniques.

LEON

www.leon.co/ie

UK restaurant chain Leon opened its first Irish outlet in Temple Bar in May. Leon, which describes itself as the 'naturally fast food brand' also plans to open another outlet later this year. The restaurant group has 63 outlets worldwide with over 50 around the UK, as well as restaurants in Norway, the Netherlands and the US.

LIATH

www.liathrestaurant.com

www.lostlane.ie

Lost Lane is a new bar and live music venue located on Grafton Street, on the site of where Dublin nightclub Lillie's Bordello used to be.

Music lovers can expect artists spanning a diverse range of acts from across the Irish and international music scene, and genres from rock and indie, to jazz and trad bands.

OLD POST OFFICE

www.oldpostofficeblackrock.ie

The Old Post Office in Blackrock, Dublin has reopened as a Chinese restaurant. Unlike traditional Chinese restaurants, it will exclusively focus on Sichuan dishes ranging from Sichuan-spiced steamed whole black sole with ginger and scallion, to Irish king scallop Gung Bao.

ONE SOCIETY

www.onesociety.ie

Wholesome food and speciality coffee is the foundation of One Society. Serving tasty, healthy and simple food, it's the perfect place to enjoy breakfast, brunch, lunch, evening pizza, wine and beer. The restaurant on Lower Gardiner Street was included in the Irish Independent's Top 30 Brunches in Ireland. Check it out!

POTAGER

www.potager.ie

This restaurant in Skerries on the Dublin coast, serves modern Irish seasonal food and the menus are built around Irish producers and their ingredients. The restaurant has a warm, relaxed style, offering great food in a unique setting.

RITA'S

www.ritas.ie

Rita's pizza restaurant opened its doors earlier this year. Just a couple of doors down from the Ranelagh Luas stop, it couldn't be easier to get to. A must try for anyone on a Dublin pizza trail.

SHELBOURNE SOCIAL

www.shelbournesocial.com

Shelbourne Social is the latest restaurant from Dylan McGrath and his business partner Vincent Melinn, who also have the South Great George's Street-based Rustic Stone, Taste at Rustic, Bonsai Bar, and nearby, Fade Street Social. A contemporary restaurant offering relaxed and informal stylish dining.

THE VIRGIN MARY

www.thevirginmarybar.com

Ireland's first non-alcoholic bar. The decor of this bar on Capel Street is inspired by a "Dutch pharmacy" – and is akin to many high-end bars popping up around the capital. There's wine, beer, cocktails and even champagne on the menu - but without the booze.

VARIETY JONES

www.varietyjones.ie

This restaurant located in The Liberties area of the city, is described as 'Modern Irish' by the chef. The menu is full of dishes designed to be shared family style, allowing diners to mix and match whatever tickles their fancy.

The sommelier developed a wine list focusing on minimal intervention wines from small producers. Food and wine pairings will also be a feature on the menu.

WING IT

www.facebook.com/wingit.ie

Gaudens Restaurant, named after sculptor Augustus Saint-Gaudens, who was born at 35 Charlemont Street, offers guests and visitors a restaurant option with views of the Grand Canal.

IN OTHER NEWS...

FREE NOW

In April 2019, Fáilte Ireland announced a partnership with mytaxi (rebranded as Free Now) as part of the Dublin Welcome Programme. This programme is designed to maximise every interaction with tourists, by providing great experiences based on local knowledge.

An online training course was developed, which has been customised from Fáilte Ireland's highly successful Accredited Service Excellence Programme, which has been completed by over 500 tourism related businesses nationally.

To date over 300 taxi drivers have completed the online training module, which provides information on Dublin's main attractions and the importance of local knowledge when welcoming visitors.

CLERY'S QUARTER DEVELOPMENT

Clery's Quarter - a new mixed use development which will include a new 176 bedroom hotel, retail and office space as well as new restaurants and bars - has been launched in Dublin city centre.

The development will see the restoration of the Clery's department store's iconic features, including its façade, internal staircases, columns and the famous Clery's clock. Work will begin this year.

SHELBOURNE HOTEL €40M MAKEOVER

Celebrating its 195th anniversary, Dublin's Shelbourne Hotel has undergone a €40m refurbishment. For the past two generations, royalty, statesmen, artists, writers and legends of stage and screen have made The Shelbourne their home away from home, from Princess Grace of Monaco, to John F. Kennedy, Michael Collins and Eamon De Valera, all of whom have suites with enviable views of the Green named after them.

Speaking about the refurbishment, General Manager of The Shelbourne, JP Kavanagh, told Food & Wine Magazine how exciting this phase is, "This Grand Dame keeps improving with age. The 195th birthday of The Shelbourne is turning out to be a really exciting year for us, joining the Autograph Collection and completing the final phase of our extensive refurbishment. The Shelbourne is looking better than ever."
